“There has been an increase in older people in this community. When i eat my lunch at the common sitting area in the bus interchange, some of the older people would approach me and ask about my job.”

Brendon E, works at Toa Payoh

“Most of the people who visit the restaurant on weekends are regular customers, and they have lived in Toa Payoh for a very long time. In all honesty, the community has not changed much, and the residents here are very humble and nice.”
