EXTERIOR - NIGHT, SKY

The moon is reflecting brightly in the night sky. ELLIE, a ghost girl flies around excitedly.

EXTERIOR - NIGHT, STREET

It is a busy night for the town folks as everybody is out celebrating Halloween. Children and adults are dressed up and going house to house for trick and treat.

Ellie flies around the people on the streets and walks beside a little boy.

ELLIE
(playfully)
Hey! Whatchu got there? Ooo!
Reeser's my favourite! Miss that!

She flies to another girl who walks by her.

ELLIE (CONT'D)
ANASTASIA! Girl! You've grown up so much since I saw you last year.
They grow up so fast.

Ellie sees ANDERSON, an 8 year old boy with his younger sister, RACHEL, 5 years of age, stealing her candy and eating it front of her. Rachel, who does not consent to this, immediately bursts into tears while Anderson gleefully finishes off the chocolate. Ellie flies over in front of Anderson.

ELLIE (CONT'D)
Anderson! How can you do that to Rachel! Don't think no one else saw what you did. I did. Booooo.

She then turns to Rachel.

ELLIE (CONT'D)
Oh Rachel girl, don't worry about him. He is just being cheeky and naughty.

Anderson walks away and throws the wrapper on the floor, while Rachel follows behind. Ellie smiles and waves goodbye to Rachel even though she is not able to see Ellie.

Something across the street catches the eye of Ellie. She sees a little girl waving to her at the window of the house on the opposite side of the road. The house has little decors unlike the rest. Ellie looks around but finds everyone else oblivious and ignorant to the little girl, everybody caught up in the festivity.

(mouthing)

Me?

The little girl nods her head and waves her to come over. Ellie flies slowly towards her, cautious and looking slightly confused. She reaches the window

ELLIE (CONT'D)
You can see me?

The little girl nods her head.

ELLIE (CONT'D)
How?

The little girl shrugs her shoulders and points to something in her house.

Ellie sees the girl's parents crying and holding their dog. The dog's breathing slows.

ELLIE (CONT'D)
I will take good care of her. I promise you. She is in safe hands.
Don't you worry.

The girl nods her head. Ellie puts her hand on the glass as she takes in a deep breath, the dog breathed its last. The ghost of the dog leaves its body and ends up right next to Ellie, wagging its tail and floating beside Ellie. It goes to the window and bump its nose against the glass at the little girl's hand. Ellie gives her a smile as she flies away with her new found companion.
