

PROPOSAL FOR PRODUCTION 2 SHORT FILM

LOGLINE	CONCEPT
An unemployed bum finally gets hired to live like a professional slob oblivious to his impending doom at the end of his career.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> - Dark-semi-comedy - Unexpected ending / twist - Gore / Blood foreshadowing Carls' own death - Allegory of how humans obtain Foie Gras - Cannibalism
DURATION	SUGGESTED TITLE
10-minute short film	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • FED
TREATMENT: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Carl, an unemployed bum, in debt, slob, pressured by landlord to find a job. • Desperate, flips through the newspaper and lands himself with a job to be a professional bum. • Job task is to be a bum – eat, sleep, watch television, play games, repeat – in a home in the outskirts of town. • In addition, once daily, he is required to chop meat as per described by his employer. • He is also required to keep himself physically clean everyday and to be free from pubic hair. His employer requests that he follows the hygiene regime strictly or he will not pass his 1-month probation • On his last day of probation, he receives his final task that he is not able to execute – to dice organs that seems to look like human organs. • Reluctant and afraid, he tries to escape from the house only to be visited by his employer who, after failing at calming Carl down, reveals that he is their next meal. • Carl gets even more afraid and tries to escape but little did he know that he has been drugged earlier in the day that causes him to feel weak and eventually falls to the ground. • Sometime later, another slob-looking male arrives at the same house, receiving the same instructions from the same employer.
INSPIRATION:        	